E-J ELECTRIC INSTALLATION CO.

TO OUR CLIENTS, PARTNERS AND FRIENDS

For the past 121 years, health and safety has been E-J Electric Installation Co.'s top priority. We are closely monitoring recent developments and taking steps to ensure the safety of our teams and the community as we continue to deliver our high level of service on the work that we do.

In addition to implementing advanced safety measures and controls on all job sites, E-J is training all employees on the latest developments and guidelines published by the CDC.

E-J is committed to minimizing interruptions to businesses and projects, and has implemented an extensive continuity plan. We have also instituted a robust communication strategy that will ensure both the safety of our project teams and the transparency of all measures taken on our sites. We will be in regular communication with our clients as we maintain operations.

To accomplish this, we have tested and rolled out telecommunication access to all E-J services via remote technology to enable a high level of service while also practicing social distancing wherever possible.

Our clients and the public can be assured that we will continue to deliver our critical work and will take all necessary measures to ensure operational effectiveness and the health and safety of our teams and the community.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.
